

Interesting video in the Wall Street Journal explaining why the recent tech lay-offs don't reflect the overall job market.

We are seeing quite the opposite in the Engineering Market. We have seen a ~2.3x increase in job postings for Electrical & Mechanical Engineers since November 8th, and 1.55x increase in Industrial Engineering postings for the same period.

- LinkedIn Openings for Mechanical and Electrical Engineers have increased ~2.3x in the last month!
- Industrial Engineering has increased by 1.55x for the same time period.
- The number of engineers in the United States has not increased in the last five years.

Contact us if you are looking for Engineers or looking for a change. Let our 35+ years of engineering experience help!

<https://www.wsj.com/video/series/news-explainers/why-tech-layoffs-dont-reflect-the-job-market/OC164B7B-6FA8-4B06-AA29-4FB87519691C>